WHY AM I HERE?

Facilitate a process of coming together to strengthen your community's health and wellbeing by identifying, assessing, and building long-term and palliative care services.

STRENGTH ASSESSMENT

PHASE ONE

Identify the strengths, challenges, and gaps that exist for seniors, elders, and family members who will be taking the journey into the next phase of life.

Timeline - October to March 2017.

“For myself, I wouldn’t want to be a burden on my family at home or in the position of caring for me... they are busy enough! But what I would like to have a facility on my home reserve where family was free to come and go as they please kind of thing, more like a home setting but not in a home...”

COMMUNITY MEMBER

“One of the things that there is such a great need in the community for end of life care, and it brings a community together, and not being able to have that loved one at home because of barriers can really, pull a family and the community apart. That’s why it’s so important to to bring them home, where they belong...”

COMMUNITY MEMBER

TELL YOUR STORIES...

- Your voices and stories need to be heard on your strengths and needs as you age.
- Understand what values, experiences, traditions, practices, and priorities you want addressed and how.
- Develop recommendations to your Council and funders on how to implement and build the structures needed to support you and your family.

- STRENGTH ASSESSMENT PROCESS -

Advisory Circle

Form a circle with 6-8 community members to lead process.

Sharing Circles

Gather small groupings of community members together.

Final Report

Compile findings, themes and recommendations for Phase Two.
